STARTING SMALL, THINKING BIG

The Swartland story began in 1951 with 'Oupa' Hanekom in the small town of Mooredsburg, a few wheat fields north of Cape Town. He started supplying the local community with hardware and electrical goods, but Oupa's ambitions lay far beyond the boundaries of Mooredsburg, and it wasn't long before joinery became Swartland's speciality.

When Oupa's son, 'Oom' Jurgens, took over the reins, he brought new ideas to the business. One of them was his personal philosophy of 'continuous improvement'.

Today, this desire to constantly improve is an integral part of the Swartland culture. It's a place where traditional values, such as hard work and pride in our craft, live in harmony with new technology and inspired ideas.

The results speak for themselves – windows and doors crafted to perfection and manufactured to last.
